

A watercolor illustration of a yellow flower with green leaves on a crumpled paper background. The flower is composed of several petals in shades of yellow and orange, with a green stem and two leaves at the bottom. The text is written in a black, handwritten-style font over the flower.

When all you see
is your pain,
you lose sight
of me.

Papa
"The Shack"